

Revitalization of Indigenous Stewardship and Management of Water

Phoebe Suina (Tribal Affiliation: Cochiti and San Felipe Pueblos)

January 13, 2020

Perspectives on Water

Today's Discussion Points

- Brief status and discussion on water
- Re-centering and revitalization of indigenous perspectives and values
- Understanding and implementation of indigenous perspectives and values in relation to water and comprehensive stewardship
- Questions or comments

Re-centering and re-focus on indigenous ways and values

- RESPECT: Respect the Earth, Living Beings, and All Resources
- Balance
- Planning and Living for Multiple Generations
- Sustainability
- Resiliency
- Interdependency

Traditional Concepts and Our Connections

Dependent

- A person that relies on another

Independent

- Not relying on another
- Not committed to or bound by another

INTERDEPENDENT

- Dependent upon one another
- Mutually dependent

Mother Nature's messages

Climate

The Southwest Is Facing an 'Unprecedented' Migratory Bird Die-Off

Scientists and birders have found large numbers of migratory species disoriented and dead in recent weeks. Here's what we know so far.

By Kevin Johnson
Editorial Intern, Audubon Magazine
September 16, 2020

Birds in This Story

(John Farrell/The Washington Post)

Weather

Climate change means this wildfire season is here to stay

September 10, 2020 | 11:57 AM EDT

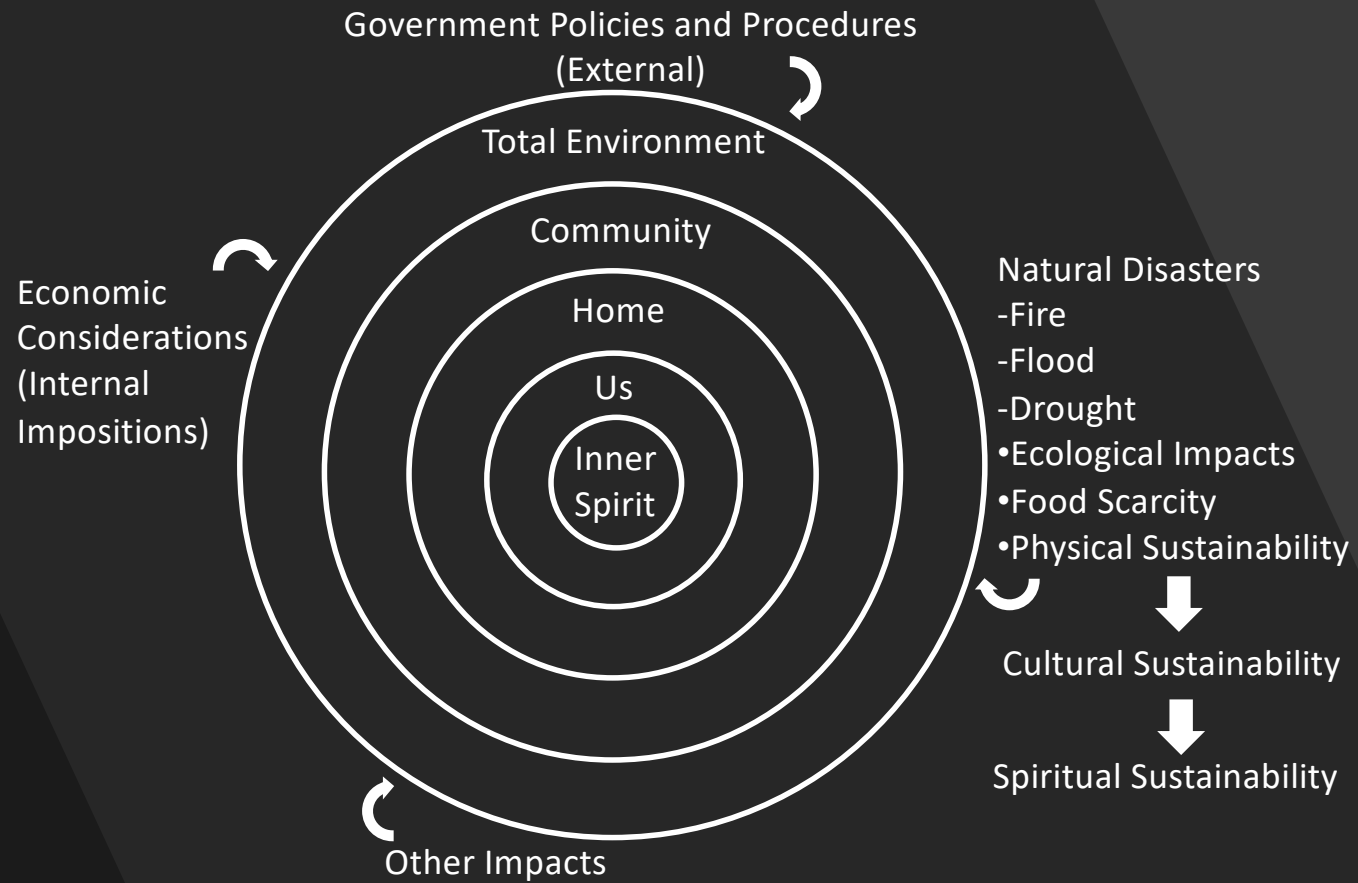

Wildfire season is a natural part of many ecosystems, but climate change has these fires burning hotter and longer throughout the year.

Related

Oregon wildfires race through small towns, destroying hundreds of buildings

Reactive Mode

Re-centering and Re-Focusing

Examples of Implementation

Stewardship for those yet to be born...

Questions and Discussion

Phoebe Suina (505) 350-7731

phoebe@high-watermark.com